

Applied Regional Science Conference

(APSC)

c/o Mets Research & Planning Inc.,
Unosawa bldg, 3-9-21 Higashi-Nakano, Nakano-ku, Tokyo, 164-0003 Japan

June 11, 2016

Dr. Zhichong Zou
School of Architecture
Harbin Institute of Technology
St. Xidazhi 66, Harbin, P.R.China
zouzichong@sina.com

Dear Dr. Zhichong Zou,

The Organizing Committee is sincerely pleased that your paper "A preliminary study on the flexible land use methods of water sensitive area master planning: A case study of Harbin, China" is accepted with your presentation in THE SIXTH ASIAN SEMINAR IN REGIONAL SCIENCE to be held at Tohoku University, Sendai, Japan, September 24-26, 2016. This seminar is set upon with the aim to serve as a platform for cross-fertilization of ideas among scholars and particularly to promote the exchange of ideas and research among Japan, China, Taiwan of China, and Korea. It is hoped that the exchange will further stabilize and foster in the near future for the benefit of Asian regions. The cost of participation is charged to you or your affiliation.

Let me take this opportunity to invite you again to participate in the seminar to present your research in this broad area we have outlined.

Sincerely yours,

Se-il Mun

President of Applied Regional Science Conference

Graduate School of Economics

Kyoto University

Yoshida Hon-machi, Sakyo-ku, Kyoto 606-8501, Japan